Baby Girl Safe In 40-Foot Fall From Sausalito Deck To Water

By BRUCE COLEMAN

A 15-month-old Sausalito baby plummeted about 40 feet off the deck of her apartment home into the edge of the bay late yesterday, but was rescued by her mother safe and sound.

Adair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Erhard of Apt. 204 in the Cote d'Azur apartments at 100 South Street, was rushed by ambulance to Marin General Hospital, where she was found to be bruised a bit but otherwise fine.

She returned home with her parents last night.

"The tide was just coming in, thank God," explained Mrs. Erhard today. "Usually there is nothing but stones and sand down there. She managed to fall where there was water."

An odd sidelight was that Mrs. Erhard reported she had a dream about a month ago about her baby falling into the water.

"I don't remember where, I just remember seeing her plummeting down into the water. I was so disturbed about it I told my husband," she said.

Mrs. Erhard said she and her two daughters, 30-month-old Celeste and 15-month-old Adair, had just returned home from the beach at nearby Fort Baker.

Erhard, territorial manager for Parents Magazine Cultural Institute, was at home since he had not been feeling well, his wife said.

The children, because of the fine weather, were on the deck which overhangs Shelter Cove and is enclosed by a four-foot bannister with spokes about six inches apart. "The children are not usually out there," explained Mrs. Erhard, "because it has not been warm enough."

Mrs. Erhard said she was inside of the apartment for a minute or two, then walked onto the deck, missing Adair, asked Celeste, "where is your sister?"

"She's in the water," Celeste replied.

"I asked myself, 'what does she mean? The beach?'" Mrs. Erhard related.

"Then I looked down into the water where I could see her," Mrs. Erhard said she ran frantically out of the apartment door, down three flights of stairs, and on down a hillside path to rescue her daughter.

Her husband called the Sausalito city ambulance immediately, with firemen receiving the call at 4:27 p.m.

Adair was lying in about a foot to 18 inches of water, her

Allies Pound Cong Truck, Rail Routes

Enemy Force Near Saigon Is Scattered

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—An unrelenting display of firepower from ships, planes and artillery cost the Viet Cong 501 killed in the past 24 hours while U.S. fighter-bombers caused new havoc along North Viet Nam's truck and rail routes, Allied officials reported today.

On Saigon's outskirts, South Vietnamese troops and planes mauled and scattered a 700-man Communist force early today after it daringly attacked a government armored regiment's headquarters at Go Dau within gunshot of a large American troop concentration.

The Reds made off with four American-made tanks in the raid on the headquarters 12 miles north of Saigon, but Vietnamese forces destroyed two and recaptured the others. A spokesman said 71 Viet Cong were killed.

LARGEST TOLL

The largest toll was claimed by South Korean forces in Operation Pierce Tiger 285 miles northeast of Saigon. Korean officers said 214 Communists were killed, 117 captured and 281 persons detained yesterday in the central coastal rielands around Qui Nhon. It was the largest Korean operation to date.

The U.S. military command reported 80 Americans killed, 816 wounded and 17 missing or captured in the fighting last week. This compared with 100 killed, 808 wounded and eight missing or captured the week before.

NUMBER RISES

The number of South Vietnamese killed rose from 131 to 232 last week but the number of missing declined from 97 to 73. Vietnamese wounded are not disclosed.

Communist losses reported by the Allies declined sharply during the week of March 13-19, with 627 killed and 59 captured compared with 1,224 killed and 106 captured the week before.

U.S. Air Force jets carried the air war to North Viet Nam's Mugia Pass for the third straight day. A spokesman said they left the strategic highway to the Ho Chi Minh Trail clogged with the wreckage of 19 trucks, five of which blew up. This indicated they were carrying munitions, an Air Force spokesman said.

Other Air Force and Navy jets knocked out two bridges and strafed six junks in the North Vietnamese panhandle and laced again into the Red River valley rail line from Hanoi northwest to the Chinese

Car's Plunge Off Span Drowns Four In Family

DEATH CAR—This station wagon still contained the bodies of four members of a San Anselmo family after it was pulled up from the bottom of the Napa River below Sears Point Bridge in Solano County last night. Hiram L. Shoup, his wife, son and daughter died in the tragedy. (AP Wirephoto)

Marin Newcomers Killed Near Vallejo

Four members of a family that moved recently to San Anselmo died last night when their car plunged off a bridge into the Napa River in Solano County.

Killed were the driver, Hiram L. Shoup, 57, a collector for the San Anselmo Garbage Co.; his wife, Juanita B. Shoup also 57; a son, James Leroy Shoup, 18, also a garbage collector for the same firm, and a daughter, Marilyn Shoup, 12.

The Shoups moved from Benicia to their new home at 5 Spring Road, San Anselmo, three weeks ago. The daughter had not yet been enrolled in school in San Anselmo.

The California Highway Patrol reported Shoup's westbound auto was 675 feet east of the west end of the Napa River Bridge on Highway 37 near Vallejo at 7:35 p.m. when it suddenly swerved.

TWO WITNESSES

Two witnesses, Earl and Gloria Rutledge of Mare Island, said they saw the car head across the eastbound lane and jump the curb. The auto bounced off a guard rail, headed back across the road, jumped the opposite curb, and crashed through the guardrail on that side.

The car fell about 25 feet into the water, which was 20 feet deep, according to the highway patrol. There were no skid marks, the patrol added.

The bodies were taken to the Colonial Chapel Funeral home, Vallejo, for autopsy, to determine especially whether the driver may have had a heart attack.

THREE DAUGHTERS

The Shoups are survived by three daughters, Mrs. Jean Allman, Mrs. Joanne Bettencourt and Mrs. Yvonne Keck, all of Benicia, and a son, Harry C. Shoup, also of Benicia and also a collector for the San Anselmo Garbage Co.

The driver was a native of Battle Creek, Mich. His wife was born in Olivet, Mich. The children were both born in Vallejo.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Bomb Ban Talks Begin In Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—Lord Chalfont, British disarmament minister, arrived today on a quickly arranged visit for new talks with Soviet leaders on a possible treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons.

The Soviet invitation, asking Chalfont to come as soon as possible, raised speculation in London that the Russians may be reappraising their approach to a pact.

The Russians announced last Wednesday night that their delegate for the past eight years to the Geneva disarmament conference, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, is being transferred. This could mean a change of Soviet policy on tactics in Geneva.

Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) announced it set off a low-yield nuclear blast today at its Nevada test site as part of its Plovershare program to develop peaceful uses of atomic energy.

San Anselmans Get Incorrect Sample Ballot

Approximately 1,000 voters in six San Anselmo precincts were given the wrong polling place on sample ballots mailed yesterday, according to City Clerk Anita Gannon.

The sample ballots directed them to Yolansdale School at 35 Elm Avenue, she said, but the school district has said it cannot provide a polling place there. All those directed to the school will instead vote at Turrini's Garage at 85 Elm Avenue.

Mrs. Gannon said she had lined up the school as a polling place before sending out the sample ballots, "but I suppose I should have gotten it in writing."

She said signs will be posted at the school, directing voters up the block to the garage. In addition, she said, she has been calling well known persons in the neighborhood and asking them to pass the word.

One of those to get such a phone call was Kenneth Anderson, president of the San Anselmo Homes Assn. He called the method of informing the voters "haphazard" and said: "It will only result in confusion. This is 1966, not 1866."

Mount Tam's Radar Station To Stay Alive

The Air Force radar station on top of Mount Tamalpais, once declared excess and headed for "phase-out," is back on permanent status.

This was reported in a letter to County Administrator Alan Bruce from Creed B. Card, chief of the real estate division of the Sacramento office of the Army Corps of Engineers.

Card, answering an inquiry from Bruce, said, "We have now received information that there is a continuing military need for retention of this site and that the declaration of excess has been cancelled."

PLAINS BLIZZARD KILLS 26 PERSONS

Classes, Business Closed, Cars Stalled
By Drifts As Storm Heads To Canada

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—A major blizzard which left at least 26 persons dead across the plains raged through the night in upper Michigan and prepared to push northward today into Canada.

The storm nudged record-breaking warm air ahead of it into the Northeast and triggered cold wave warnings southward across the Midwest into Louisiana and Mississippi. The temperature dropped below freezing in Chicago and snow flurries filled the air.

Police in central upper Michigan said the storm was more intense than any of the winter. Schools were closed today in three counties surrounding Marquette, Mich., and scores of autos were reported abandoned on the road.

Conditions were also bad on the Keweenaw Peninsula poking into Lake Superior, where the storm brought heavy snow and high winds. Drifts were five feet deep in the streets of Ishpeming, Mich.

More than 14 inches of snow was on the ground today in Minneapolis, the city's third heaviest snowfall in history. Twelve inches spread across western Wisconsin and 10 inches were reported in parts of Iowa and Nebraska. Stiff winds blew the snow into street-blocking drifts.

Some homes in Omaha, Neb., were still without power today. Factories and business shut down when the storm hit Minneapolis yesterday and the University of Minnesota closed completely for the first time in memory. Snow drifts were 10 feet deep at Le Mars, Iowa.

The storm, following roughly the same path taken by the great blizzard earlier this month, resulted in at least 26 deaths. Among the 11 storm victims in Nebraska was rodeo performer Gerald (Specs) Aufdengarten, whose body was found in the snow near his bogged-down truck.

A car containing the bodies of four men trapped by the storm was discovered east of Howells, Neb., late yesterday. The men had been returning to West Point, Neb., from a meeting at Grand Island and apparently died of exposure.

Minnesota and Iowa counted four storm-related deaths. Wisconsin had one and South Dakota, Wyoming and Colorado had two each.

U.S. Expert Says Russ Using Photo Satellites

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The Soviet Union has orbited 46 satellites which probably were spy-in-the-sky spacecraft, according to one of the Johnson administration's specialists on Soviet space activities.

"Nobody has suggested anything other than photo reconnaissance" for a particular series of unmanned Cosmos satellites, said Dr. Charles S. Sheldon II, senior member of the National Aeronautics and Space Council's professional staff.

The council is the President's top advisory group on U.S. space policies.

The 46 satellites — launched since 1962, including five this year — "don't fit any pattern" of scientific, navigational or communications-type satellites, Sheldon said.

"They fly low — 100 to 200 miles above the earth — and after eight days they disappear from orbit," probably to be recovered so film inside can be removed, the space expert said.

Sheldon, who came to Orlando to speak to local members of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, said he doubts the Soviet Union intends to place warheads in orbit as a threat to the United States, however, because it could not do so without being discovered.

Concerning the race to the moon, Sheldon predicted the Soviets may soon launch a large unmanned space station and follow up with a smaller space-ship with men inside to rendezvous with it.

Sheldon said yesterday he believes the Soviets could hoist an orbiting laboratory weighing from 40,000 to 50,000 pounds into orbit, "and you could get a lot of people inside a space station that weighs 50,000 pounds."

Police Keep Richmond Shop Areas Quiet

RICHMOND (AP) — Heavily reinforced police squads, armed with shotguns and backed by dogs, patrolled Richmond last night to prevent looting by gangs of Negro youths.

A gang of 30 broke into a department store Tuesday, overwhelming clerks and escaping with clothing valued at $700. That night window-breaking groups looted two jewelry stores a pawn shop and a clothing store within 25 minutes.

Taken were watches, rings, cameras and clothing, and although no precise valuation was made of the losses, store owners said it ran into thousands of dollars.

Police Chief Charles E. Brown called in 80 law officers from seven Contra Costa County cities, the sheriff's office and the California Highway Patrol and declared:

"We will tolerate no more of this. Our merchants will not be subjected to such vandalism. A hood is going to be treated like a hood in Richmond."

Robert Murphy, a captain in the force, added that "This should not be treated as a racial issue at this time." Witnesses had reported the gangs were made up of Negroes between 17 and 20 years old.

Jury Deliberates Murder Charge

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A Superior Court Jury of five men and seven women began deliberating yesterday in the trial of apartment house manager Wilbur D. Lovill on a charge of murder.

The jury was locked up for the night and resumed consideration of the case today.

Lovill, 34, is accused of the fatal shooting of Tim Riley, 19, formerly of San Rafael, last Oct. 17.

Cal Students Planning Goldberg Visit Protest

BERKELEY (AP) — Some 3,000 University of California students attended a rally yesterday called to plan demonstrations against appearances by Ambassador Arthur Goldberg.

Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, is to speak tomorrow at the university's Charter Day exercises and at a forum in a gymnasium.

Opposing his appearances is the Peace-Rights Organizing Committee which protests this country's involvements in Viet Nam.

Roger W. Heyns, Berkeley campus chancellor, has announced the university would not permit any disturbance when Goldberg speaks in the Greek Theater and receives an honorary degree. The Academic Senate, a faculty group, backs Heyns' stand.

Marvin Garson, speaking at the P-ROC rally, said the committee was protesting the degree award, not Goldberg's speech. He urged students to take anti-war and anti-degree signs into the Greek Theater.

Bettina Aptheker, a self-proclaimed Communist, urged students to avoid "physical contact" at the Charter Day ceremonies. "Let them give Goldberg his degree and a little later, at the second meeting we will give him the third degree," Miss Aptheker, a student, was active in the Free Speech Movement which disrupted university classes a year ago last December. That disruption sought greater student political freedom.

Goldberg, in the gymnasium meeting, is to speak under faculty sponsorship on Viet Nam policy. Reginald E. Zelnick, assistant history professor, told students the meeting would be a debate between Goldberg and Professor Franz H. Schurmann, a university expert on Chinese and Asian problems.

Indonesians Try To Form New Cabinet

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia's new leaders met again with President Sukarno today without reaching agreement on a new anti-Communist cabinet to cope with the nation's political and economic chaos.

The meeting brought Sukarno together with a presidium of key civilian and military representatives who have been trying to forge a cabinet for four days. Another meeting was scheduled later today, sources said.

There was concern in some quarters that unless the presidium reached a decision on a new cabinet soon, the students who toppled Sukarno's 100-man cabinet would again stage street demonstrations.

Meanwhile, Jakarta remained calm and the military shortened the nightly curfew by three and one-half hours.

REUNION AT HAMILTON — This happy scene took place last week at Hamilton Air Force Base when Dana Devlin met his benefactors two days after he got out of the hospital. Sgt. Everett D. Gaede holds Dana, who is shaking the hands of SM/Sgt. Jerry Taylor, who gave the boy mouth-to-mouth resuscitation last January, probably saving his life after an accident on the Sonoma Highway. (Air Force photo)

Five Persons Alive Because Of Sergeant

Because SM Sgt. Jerry Taylor of Hamilton Air Force Base happens to be on the scene of accidents, persons possibly owe their lives or health to him.

Dana Devlin, 5, son of Mrs. Marilyn Devlin of Sonoma, was critically injured in an accident on the Sonoma Highway in January.

Sergeant Taylor, who is assigned to the Western Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center at Hamilton, along with S/Sgt. Everett D. Gaede arrived at the scene of that accident a few minutes later.

Several bystanders told them to leave the boy alone because he was already dead. But Sergeant Taylor detected a faint pulse in the boy's neck. He applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while Sergeant Gaede kept the boy's body in the proper position.

Half an hour later, they were rewarded when Dana began to breathe again. An ambulance arrived soon after that and the boy was taken to a hospital in critical condition, but alive.

On Feb. 24 last year, Daniel Bright, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bright of 525 Midway Boulevard, Novato, was on his bicycle in a service station at 1390 South Novato Boulevard, Novato. He was drinking a soft drink when he fell off the bike, cutting himself just below the eye on another boy's bicycle gears. He fainted.

Sergeant Taylor saw the boy and knew that he was having difficulty in breathing. So he cleared his breathing passage and treated him for shock until an ambulance arrived that took him to Novato Hospital. He was treated there and released.

About six months ago on Highway 101 near the Black Point Cutoff, Sergeant Taylor saw a car go out of control and roll over. He found three women trapped in it. Fearing that it might catch on fire, he kicked out a window of the car and assisted the unidentified women to safety.

Candidates Face Tax, Long-Hair Questions

Should boys with long hair be required to wear swimming caps in the Novato city swimming pool, the same as the girls with long hair?

That question was given to city council candidate Betty Machado yesterday at a noon candidates' luncheon at the Lodge, sponsored by the Novato Republican women.

"Let the public health department give the answer on long hair," she answered.

That was just one of the written questions submitted to the candidates after they gave a brief summary of their qualifications. Most of the questions were directed to individual candidates. However, all responded to the question on how to get most out of the high tax dollar.

Joseph Bonomolo suggested more creative programs and better use of city services.

Harley McAskill said he did not think taxes were high. The present city administration is doing a good job of saving money, he said.

Mrs. Helen Greving pointed out that the major portion of the taxes went to schools. The present city council is giving good service for the tax dollar, she said.

"Use the tax dollar wisely," said M. E. (Babe) Silva.

Wayne Hathaway thought citizens would get more for their tax dollars if all services were consolidated.

When asked how he would annex McGraw-Hill Book Co. property to the city, Silva said that it had been tried when he was on the council and could not be done until owners of land between it and the city line were willing to annex.

McAskill said it would take a "terrific selling job" to get new industry into Novato.

"I see no reason why we should not get federal and state money for parks when they have been earmarked for that," Mrs. Greving replied to the question on why she favored federal aid for park acquisition.

Mrs. Machado took exception to this answer, saying she was definitely opposed to a real estate dealer or a developer on the planning commission if he lived in Novato.

Earlier in the day, the candidates had addressed a chamber of commerce sponsored breakfast, also at the Lodge.

At that meeting, on the question of how to reduce the tax load on the homeowners, Silva had answered, "Bring in industry."

"Educate the residents to realize that every dollar they spend in the city helps increase the sales tax revenue," Mrs. Greving answered.

Mrs. Machado favored developing South Novato Boulevard and wooing the tourist trade on its way to Point Reyes National Seashore.

Questioned on what should be done about parking on Grant Avenue, Mrs. Machado favored a downtown master plan.

All candidates agreed that the most pressing problem facing Novato is improvement of its streets.

Candidates To Meet With Labor Group

Unruh Decides For Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh made it official today — he'll run for another term in the lower house.

His terse announcement, handed to newsmen waiting outside a closed Assembly Democratic caucus, said only:

"Unruh said he had reached this decision because this is what he wanted to do."

That wound up nearly a year of speculation about the powerful speaker's future — a future that he himself kept clouded by hinting he might run for numerous other posts.

He had said he might seek the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, or a seat in the newly reapportioned Senate.

And he had heightened the speculation by filing declarations of intent to run for both the Assembly and Senate.

But with tomorrow's deadline for filing official nomination papers, Unruh had to make a final decision—and he stuck with the Assembly where he has ruled since September of 1961.

The announcement also put to an end a squabble between some of the speaker's top-ranking lieutenants about who would succeed him if he left.

Speaker Pro Tem Carlos Bee, D-Hayward, and Robert Crown, chairman of the powerful Assembly Ways and Means Committee, had been seeking support for a showdown if Unruh went to the Senate or elsewhere.

But following the caucus, both men said they would support Unruh if he sought another term as speaker.

And Unruh said if he is re-elected to the Assembly he will again seek the speaker's post.

If he does run, he'll rate as the odds-on favorite.

Unruh, 43, was first elected to the Assembly in 1954. He built a reputation as a political power to be as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee from 1959-61.

He was first elected speaker when the entire Assembly convened in an unprecedented between-sessions caucus to elect a successor to Ralph M. Brown, who had resigned to become an appeals court justice.

border in a total of 67 missions yesterday.

Off South Viet Nam, U.S. 7th Fleet destroyers joined air and ground forces in battering the Communists.

An even heavier blow hit a Communist battalion which attacked the Bu Prang outpost 112 miles northeast of Saigon before dawn. With flare planes illuminating the enemy positions, artillery and 20 air sorties beat off the Reds during a five-hour fire fight.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's political troubles continued as a general strike in Da Nang entered its second day. It was expected to end Friday.

The old imperial capital of Hue, farther north, returned to normal after an anti-government demonstration by 10,000 persons in front of the city hall yesterday.

In both northern centers, the demonstrators have been supporting Buddhist demands for a return to civilian rule. The unrest began with the dismissal of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi as commander of the army's 1st Corps area, the five northernmost provinces, on March 10.

America's B-52 bombers in 191 massive raids on South Viet Nam have ripped old Viet Cong jungle hideouts apart and sharply reduced the Communist will and ability to fight.

This conclusion was reached today in official quarters after a detailed study of the raids which started last June and now are almost daily occurrences.

The assaults average 10 B-52s from Guam to a mission. Each carries 50 750-pound bombs, a total of 375,000 pounds of steel and explosives for each flight.

When the raids started, about 1,000 Viet Cong were detecting each month to the Saigon government forces. The number now is double that. Many told interrogators the big bombers were making life intolerable for the guerrillas, wrecking their rest havens and hospitals, their hitherto safe tunnels and caves, and destroying precious food caches. Some ground sweeps by troops have substantiated these reports.

face up, said Mrs. Erhard. "She was still conscious."

Mrs. Erhard estimated her child might have been in the water two or three minutes at the most. She said she does not know why the child was uninjured but believes it was because she landed in the water. "She weighs only about 20 pounds," she said.

Mrs. Erhard said that Adair could not have gone over the top of the bannister and, hence, must have squeezed through the bars.

Sausalito firemen responding as a first aid unit examined the baby but, according to Fire Chief Charles E. Masten, "We found nothing wrong with her."

United Ambulance took the child, with her father, to Marin General Hospital, where she was examined and X-rayed, then permitted to return home.

Youth Groups Further Merger

Organization for merger of Youth for Action with the Marin Youth Council got under way last night with tentative appointment of co-chairmen and an executive committee.

Formal action on the appointment was put over until 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Civic Center, where it is hoped that all high schools in the county will be represented. Mrs. Peggy Daniels of the county school office reported. She served as secretary for last night's session.

Tentatively elected co-chairmen were Bruce Proctor of College of Marin and Elizabeth Margoliash of Redwood High School.

A name for the merged group will be discussed at Tuesday's meeting.

College Session

Marin Junior College District trustees, meeting at 8 p.m. today in room G-3 of the College of Marin physical education building, will consider a recommendation by President Stephen E. Epler for teacher salaries and health compensation in fiscal 1967. Trustees will also continue their discussion of a budget for the next fiscal year.

Services District.

A potential candidate, San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini, today took himself out of the picture with a statement that he will not run, despite the urging of many people that he do so. Said Bettini:

"I have carefully considered this matter, and have concluded that I would prefer to remain mayor of San Rafael. Being mayor affords me the challenge in government I want. It is my sincere desire to assist in resolving San Rafael's present problems, and to contribute toward the future planning and development of our community."

There was still no announcement from the incumbent First District supervisor, banker Byron W. Leydecker, but he was reported to have told friends that he has definitely decided against seeking re-election. Tomorrow at 5 p.m. is the deadline for filing.

Dr. Upton pointed out that he is no stranger to county government, because of his long service on the planning commission. He is also a member of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which has authority over bay fill projects.

He said he made his decision to enter the race "when it became apparent Mr. Leydecker was not going to run... I felt somebody should give the people an opportunity to decide what direction they want the county to go."

Noting that "I am not a joiner," Upton said he expects to draw support from a wide spectrum rather than depending on any particular groups.

"I intend to make an all-out campaign," he said. "I would like to keep it on a level of decency, not descending to personal attacks."

Dr. Upton, a dentist with office in the Albert Building in downtown San Rafael, has been a resident of Marin County since 1933 and of his present home at Beach Drive, in an unincorporated "island" of east San Rafael, since 1943. Before moving to Marin, he was a San Francisco resident.

Torch, Other Tools Used In Burglaries

Burglars using a pipe wrench to twist off front doorknobs struck at two residences in the Alto Strip area, sheriff's officers reported today.

Gilbert P. Samonds and William C. Husbands, who share an apartment at 633 Redwood Highway, told deputies they discovered the doorknob entry and about $350 worth of articles missing.

The lost included cuff-links, a diamond ring, and a radio.

Albert L. Denney, 1100 Meadowsweet Drive, said his doorknob also was twisted off. Removed from his home were a television set and a portable typewriter.

Fernando Clementino, of 1052 Fifth Street, Novato, told officers someone forced the east gate of a machine shop yard at 496 Olive Avenue, Novato, and made off with a cutting torch, an acetylene tank, and an oxygen tank.

The torch, found at the rear of the machine shop, was used to cut the tanks from their bolted base, deputies said.

Samuel Grossman, 8 Irving Drive, Sleepy Hollow, reported burglars used a ladder to reach a high window, then cut the screen for entry. Taken from the master bedroom, he said, was an envelope containing $270 cash.

The City of Los Gatos (the cats) was originally called "La Rinconada de los Gatos," the rendezvous of the wildcats, which infested that region.

ment as an investigator and assistant coroner, public administrator, and public guardian, for the best interest of the people.

"The 1965 Grand Jury recommended the office remain in its present status. Taxpayers and citizens of Marin must maintain this check and balance system if our government is going to best serve. I have no interest in other than doing a full time, dedicated job for Marin County."

The candidate is a native Californian, born in Willits and reared in Marin County. He is married and the father of two. He is past president of Gallinas Valley Lions Club, Marin County Employees Assn., and Northern California Safe Burglary Investigators Assn.

He is a former first vice president of Native Sons of the Golden West, Mount Tamalpais Parlor 64, and a member of San Rafael Elks Lodge and Marin County Peace Officers Assn. He has attended Federal Bureau of Identification law enforcement courses.

Keaton, in announcing his decision not to run, stated: "It is with some regret and yet with a sense of deep satisfaction that I at this time announce my plans to devote full time to my private business interest, thereby not seeking re-election."

"I regret having to leave the post to which the people of Marin have elected me over the years, and I find satisfaction in the knowledge that I have performed the duties and obligations of this office to the best of my ability."

Keaton thanked the county board of supervisors and the grand jury "for their endorsement and approval of the operation" of his office.

Other filing for office include Charles I. Daniels Jr., 40, for Republican Central Committee, District 1. He resides at 191 Deer Park Avenue, San Rafael, is an executive and an incumbent.

Mrs. Suzanne G. Baty, 34, of Horse Shoe Drive, Point Reyes Station, filed for Democratic Central Committee, District 4. She is a teacher and housewife.

Mrs. Orpha Elmina Barnes, 56, of 85 Bucklewey Street, Marin City, and Mrs. Vivian A. Barron, 51, of 30 Burgess Court, Marin City, both filed for Marin City Community Services District. Mrs. Barron, incumbent, is a children's assistant, and Mrs. Barnes, a school custodian.

James G. MacNichols, 42, of 31 Rydal Avenue, Homestead Valley, filed for re-election to Homestead Valley Sanitary District. He is a sales engineer.

Clifford Arthur Gerstner, 41, of 163 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, and James Tufts II, 39, of 45 Ridgcrest Road, Kentfield, both filed for Republican Central Committee, District 2. Tufts, incumbent, is a sales manager. Gerstner is a civil engineer.

Town-Federal Beautification Plan Favored

Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission last night approved a town beautification program to cost $160,000 over the next three fiscal years, with half of it coming from federal urban beautification grants.

The plan, recommended by Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher, calls primarily for completion of the town park. Work to be done there includes covering the high canal which runs around the park, turling, installing an irrigation system, constructing a parking lot, walkways, access roads and a water main extension.

Funds would also go for landscaping around the remodeled Town Hall and the new public safety substation east of Highway 101, and more landscaping on islands on Paradise Drive. Funds would also be used to construct a scenic path along Corte Madera Avenue.

The proposal will next be considered by the Town Council. Usher wants a federal grant application filed as soon as possible so some of the work can begin this summer.

The commission also asked that the public works department study the possibility of limiting the height of a handball court wall at the town park to 12 feet instead of the proposed 16 feet. Public Works Director Arthur Morrison said the court will cost about $1,540.

Cat On Roof Causes A Broken Ankle

Gail C. Nairn, 53, was trying to coax her cat off the roof of her home at 16 Los Robles Drive, San Rafael, about 6 p.m. yesterday when the six-foot ladder she was standing on gave way, throwing her to the concrete below and breaking her left ankle.

She was listed in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Dixie School Board Balks At County Classroom Plea

Trustees of Dixie School District last night voted against allowing a classroom for the educable mentally retarded at Vallecito School.

The county superintendent of schools requested the location, but Dixie trustees agreed last night that the district already has its share of special education classes.

Supt. Dennis B. Willis said there is already one mentally retarded class, plus the Marinade School for the orthopedically handicapped, and two other classrooms are being planned for the severely mentally retarded.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Approved establishment of a demonstration school this summer in cooperation with Sonoma State College, to be run concurrently with the district summer school. New teachers in the district will be required to attend the demonstration school.

2. Voted to continue the intern program, but waived the

TIBURON VIEWS

Candidates Urge Audit, Planning

A "proper" city audit and open city council meetings were urged for Tiburon government by three council candidates, two of them incumbents, on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today.

The three are among eight candidates seeking three posts in the April 12 election. All but candidate Thomas E. Drohan spoke on the radio today.

The three joining in criticism of auditing practice and closed meetings were incumbents Fred C. Hannahs and Mrs. Jacqueline A. Parnell and candidate Alfred J. Azevedo.

They are running as a ticket, because, as Azevedo explained, it takes three to make policy, "and we are in favor of an audit and open meetings."

Azevedo cited a closed budget meeting of the council last June, declared that the audit for the fiscal year ending last June was received by the city only yesterday, "10 months late," and that there is no evidence of budget planning.

Hannahs said the audit, by Dalton, Graupner and Barber of San Rafael, showed that police protection cost $4,000 more than an earlier list of disbursements showed and that road expenditures went over by $3,000.

In answer to a question, Hannahs explained he walked out of a closed council meeting last June when budgets, planning, and administration were being discussed. "I do not think that was proper," Hannahs said.

Mrs. Parnell said she was part of the team because she supported the views of Azevedo and Hannahs. Of Hannahs she declared, "A man's ethics are more important than his image."

The other incumbent, Anne L. Ellinwood, declared that it is easy to be critical, but that incorporation has been a success.

"There has been a very efficient transition from county to city government," she declared. She also said the transition has "brought the responsibility for local government to the people."

Candidate William R. Bremer, an attorney, said an independent voice is required in city government. He called planning a fundamental issue in the campaign, and declared he could "not accept as Gospel" the argument that failure to develop the waterfront would result in loss of revenue.

In response to a listener's question, Bremer denied any connection with Tiburon Tidelands Inc.

Candidate Branwell D. Fanning, an executive in a travel agency, said that Tiburon has many conflicts, but these can be resolved and turned to advantage with proper leadership. He also emphasized the need for planning and said the city must be ready for the "tourist burden."

Candidate Hal R. Lever, owner of the Power Engineering Co., declared that Tiburon's rural atmosphere should be retained as much as possible. He saw danger "of becoming another Sausalito with its beatniks and homosexuals, or another Carmel, bleating for tourists and conventions."

Tape of today's program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m., Sunday. Kitty Oppenheimer was moderator.

New Industry Shuns Much-Littered Cities

NEW YORK (UPI)—Management looks to a community's "litter level" as a barometer of its potential as a place to do business, reports Keep America Beautiful, Inc. A clean, litter-free neighborhood attracts business, according to the national litter prevention organization. A littered community, on the other hand, tends to drive new business away.

West Virginia credits an intensive anti-litter drive with attracting 46 new industries to the state. They provided 5,000 jobs in an area of chronic unemployment. Kentucky reports that in the season following its first big litter-prevention campaign tourists spent $7 million more in the state than in any previous year.

Helicoptering, Tree Planting Affect First Lady's Wardrobe

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson is finding that her role as one of the world's most-photographed women is putting something of a crimp in her fashion plans.

Her spring wardrobe features skirts 17½ to 18 inches from the floor—not exactly the “mod” 20 inches—but short enough to be in style.

But for Lady Bird Johnson there'll be none of her beloved prints—they don't photograph well. And she needs easy skirts for getting in and out of limousines and helicopters.

The White House doesn't like to put designer's labels on Mrs. Johnson's size 10 outfits. But Mrs. Carpenter made it clear today the First Lady's clothes are strictly American. Lately, she's leaned toward two designers, Adele Simpson and Mollie Parnis.

Mrs. Johnson has not decided on her Easter costume, since what she will wear will depend on the weather in Texas, where the family is expected to spend the holidays.

Mrs. Johnson has modeled all her new clothes for her husband, who takes a keen interest in what his girls wear. He likes his wife in bright colors and, because of her vivid coloring, she also prefers yellow, greens and shades of red.

The First Lady has always taken care not to be a “captive of clothes,” but she finds that her active life requires her to “spend more thought” on her wardrobe. She even has “tree planting” clothes to wear on her frequent beautification safaris.

A cocktail hour will be held at 7:30 p.m. with dinner at 8:30.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BITTEL

Think A Little While Longer Before You Make Wedding Plans

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Youth asked for it, care of Helen Help Us, The Independent-Journal.

DEAR HELEN:

I left home to go and stay with my boyfriend's parents, and have written to my folks telling them I am nothing but trouble and they should forget me.

You see I am going steady (or, as we say, going around) with this boy who came over every night after school so I could help him with his studies.

My mother and dad didn't approve of my teaching and helping him and said he should study by himself, and get out with other kids more. They said a girl should have more time to herself, and he was leaning on me too much.

I'm over 17 and I think I love this boy. We are planning to get married when we graduate and he gets a job. My folks think we are too young and want us to wait until we're sure.

Anyway, the arguments got too much, so I went to my steady's house, but I probably can't stay there long.

I think my parents don't understand me. Please help.—BROKENHEARTED

DEAR B.H.:

Go home! Your parents understand you better than you understand yourself.

... And think a while longer before you make plans to marry a boy you only think you love!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am 19 and planning to be married shortly to a man of 21. We've been dating for the past four years and know this is for sure.

Only one thing bothers me. My fiancé's father feels that after we're married the mother should still come first. We think that the wife or husband, as the case would be, should be first in the eyes of the other mate. We will always love and respect our parents, but isn't it "Forsaking all others"?—WONDERING WIFE TO BE

That's the American way—and the only way, in my book. I'm sure your mothers will understand.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is very important and I must tell you. Twice recently you've told unmarried mothers to put their children out for adoption. I think you were wrong. These girls may some day marry and want that child very badly. They'll always worry and wonder.

I went through this experience, and would have given my child away, except that it was born with a defect, and so I had a second chance. After four years I married the father of the child—and now we have our son and are very happy. I couldn't have married him if we had lost the child. We would be seeing the hurt in each other.

Tell these girls to think long and hard. They can place their babies in State care and get them later when they are able to care for them. You don't have to sign adoption papers until you are good and ready.—HAPPY NOW

DEAR H.N.:

Every argument has two sides. For some, adoption is definitely not the answer. For others, it's the only way. All unwed mothers should have intensive counseling before they make a decision, but I think most counselors will agree with me that a shotgun wedding is the worst way to solve the problem.

As for putting a baby in State care: Unless it's for a very limited time, this is the cruelest thing a girl can do. She deprives him of a mother—and of adoptive parents—and condemns him to the life of an orphan, shuttled from one foster home to another.—H.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR SAN MARIN

Novato's new $92,000 fire station in San Marin has been closed to outside weather and inside plastering is being done this week. The station is scheduled for completion by May 1. It will house two fire trucks and four men initially, with more to be added later, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero. The fire district has been raising shrubs so that landscaping of the station will start as soon as the contractor, E. H. Chapman Co. of Santa Rosa, completes moving the dirt around the building after it has been completed, the chief said.

'KISS OF PEACE'—Pope Paul VI (left) and the Archbishop of Canterbury, Michael Ramsey, embrace in a symbolic "kiss of peace" today outside the Basilica of St. Paul, outside the walls of Rome today, before issuing a joint communique summing up the historic talks of the past two days, the first held since the Anglican and Roman churches split more than 400 years ago. ## California Doctors Favor Relaxing Abortion Curbs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California Medical Assn. is on record today favoring liberalized abortion laws, despite disclosure earlier this week that some of its physicians are under investigation for borderline operations.

The 22,000 - member CMA House of Delegates approved late yesterday a resolution urging "broadening of the therapeutic abortion law, taking into consideration the health of both the mother and the product of conception."

State law now permits abortion only when the life of the mother is in danger.

Earlier this week state officials disclosed a widespread investigation of reputable physicians who had been performing abortions for what some doctors have called "more humane" reasons: Usually when the mother was mentally incompetent or had a disease that could deform the child.

The 300 - member House of Delegates sidestepped a controversy over marijuana.

Roman, Anglican Prelates Pledge Efforts For Unity

ROME (AP) — Pope Paul VI and the Archbishop of Canterbury pledged today that their churches would work toward unity. But the archbishop said afterward the Roman Catholic Church's stand on mixed marriage still was a major barrier.

Archbishop Michael Ramsey made his statement on mixed marriage after he and Pope Paul had prayed together in the Pontifical Basilica of St. Paul's and had issued a joint declaration committing their churches to an active program of collaboration to bring them closer together.

That was the climax of the archbishop's historic three-day visit here—the first by an Anglican primate since the Church of England broke away from the Vatican in 1534.

But the bombshell came several hours later at a news conference. There the archbishop said that Pope Paul's recent easing of mixed marriage regulations "does not satisfy the consciences of Anglican Christians and other non-Roman Catholic Christians."

After the special prayer service, the joint declaration was read in Latin by Bishop Jan Willebrands, secretary of the Vatican's Christian Unity Secretariat, and in English by Dr. Ralph Dean, executive delegate of the Anglican Communion.

The declaration said the Pope and Dr. Ramsey "intend to inaugurate between the Roman Catholic Church and the Anglican Communion a serious dialogue which may lead to that unity in truth for which Christ prayed."

It was greeted by applause from an audience of 3,000 in the large basilica where Pope John XXIII announced in 1959 that he was calling the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The Pope and Dr. Ramsey had entered the crowded basilica side by side and walked together down the center aisle. They sat side by side in identical gilt and brocade armchairs, as they had at their first meeting yesterday in the Sistine Chapel.

Both read portions of a common service of worship prepared for the occasion. The Pope read his words in Latin

District May Ask Fire Rating Survey

The Novato Fire District may ask for another survey by the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau chairman Peter Ferrarese last night told the board.

Ferrarese met with representatives of the bureau last week and discussed improvements in the district since the last survey was made 8 months ago. At vey was made 18 months ago. At changed from a five to a four classification, reducing fire insurance rate.

Rio Vista means river view or view of the river.

and the archbishop in English.

After the reading of the joint declaration, the Pope and Dr. Ramsey embraced in a symbolic kiss of peace, as they did twice yesterday at the Vatican. Another wave of applause rose from the congregation.

The joint declaration said the in the development of fraternal relations, based upon Christian charity, and of sincere efforts to remove the causes of conflict and to re-establish unity."

The declaration did not specify how closer contacts would be accomplished. It was expected, however, that a first step would be creation of a Roman-Anglican commission to study in detail issues dividing the churches.

The declaration said the dialogue "should include not only theological matters such as Scripture, tradition and liturgy, but also matters of practical difficulties felt on either side."

Among the barriers between the half-billion-member Catholic Church and the 45-million-member Anglican Communion are disagreements over papal infallibility, doctrines concerning the Virgin Mary, and questions of mixed marriage and birth control.

Supreme Court Sounds Poll Tax Death Knell

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court voided Virginia's poll tax today and used language that amounts to a bar against any fee requirement or wealth qualification for the right to vote.

Justice John M. Harlan in a dissenting opinion treated the ruling as "the final demise of state poll taxes."

The 6-3 decision was announced by Justice William O. Douglas.

In two other states—Alabama and Texas—federal courts have held the poll tax unconstitutional. The poll tax still is used in Mississippi and Vermont.

Douglas declared that "a state violates the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment whenever it makes the affluence of the voter or payment of any fee an electoral standard."

Justices Hugo L. Black and John M. Harlan wrote dissenting opinions. Justice Potter Stewart joining in the Harlan opinion.

For the majority, Douglas declared:

"The principle that denies the state the right to dilute a citizen's vote on account of his economic status or other such factors, by analogy bars a system which excludes those unable to pay a fee to vote, or who fail to pay."

Douglas said the majority's conclusion "is founded not on what we think governmental policy should be, but on what the equal protection clause requires."

The opinion said: "Wealth or fee paying has, in our view, no relation to voting qualifications; the right to vote is too precious, too fundamental to be so burdened or conditioned."

Justice Harlan's dissenting opinion said the final demise of state poll taxes "is perhaps in itself not of great moment."

"But," said Harlan, "the fact that the coup de grace has been administered by this court instead of being left to the affected states or to the federal political process should be a matter of continuing concern to all interested in attaining the proper role of this tribunal under our scheme of government."

Negro Gains Credited To Communism Fear

KINGSTON, R.I. (AP)—A Negro psychologist says the federal government's efforts on behalf of Negro equality in the last 10 years is partly in response to world communism.

Dr. Kenneth B. Clark of the City University of New York said at the University of Rhode Island that the government's drive for racial equality was spurred partly by a fear that Negroes would be attracted to communism.

U.S. Would Aid Russian Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Soviet ship that has run out of money for supplies will be able to get funds from the United States, says the State Department, but not until a request comes through proper channels.

The ship, the Vityaz, pulled into Manila Bay needing $4,000 to replenish its stores. It asked the American Consulate in Manila to supply the funds in the form of a guarantee to the Philippine Government.

The consulate relayed the Soviet request to Washington for instructions. Officials here said yesterday they would be happy to help out the ship but added that the request must come from the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

Armored Car, Cash Hijacked In London

LONDON (AP)—Two bandits disguised as security guards hijacked an armored car in the center of London today and got away with about 20,000 pounds ($46,000) in cash.

The two men transferred the loot to a waiting auto and drove away after locking a guard in the back of the armored car.

REPRIEVE FOR STOWAWAY

Chai-Ming Liu, 17, who stowed away to this country from Hong Kong aboard the liner President Wilson on Monday, is helped into a new suit presented him by the Four Family Assn. at the Youth Guidance Center today in San Francisco. A federal judge has granted a delay in a hearing in order to find if the U.S. might grant him amnesty. The youth claims he fled Red China after an anti-Communist organization to which he belonged was discovered. Members of the association aiding him are (from left) Joe Jung, Joe Quan and Benito Quan.

Education Committee Eyes Shift Of Some School Money

Proposed switch of a portion of the funding of the county schools office from the board of supervisors to the county board of education's responsibility was discussed by a committee of the board of education last night.

There was no conclusion reached, but members of the administrative services committee, headed by Patrick Pollock, asked for more information.

William G. Vanasen, director of business services in the county schools office, said about 10 California counties have made the switch under recent legislation.

The schools office draws its finances partly from general funds administered by the board of supervisors. Supervisors would have to approve if the change were to be made.

The committee recommended in favor of a $1.716 contract with correctional industries at San Quentin Prison for academic backup courses for instruction in furniture and upholstery trades. The pilot project will run from April 21 to June 30. Cost will be paid by Correctional Industries.

Valley Given More Time On Gas Line

Time is on the side of San Geronimo Valley Assn. in its fight to bring natural gas to residents of the valley.

After previous deadlines failed, members now have until June 1 to get the 640 signatures necessary before Pacific Gas and Electric Co. will pipe the gas through to house holders, afresh.

Mrs. Grace Zanolini, publicity chairman said today.

More than 400 residents have signed so far and the association agreed Monday to launch a door-to-door campaign to get the balance, she added.

Members have had deadline extensions over the past six months. The initial request for gas was made in 1952 but PG&E officials said at that time it was not practical until there were 1,000 homes in the valley. That number was passed in 1958 when the campaign started afresh.

Marin Water District Studies Sewer Service

Marin Municipal Water District may soon be expanding into the sewer service business. District General Manager William R. Seeger told directors yesterday they will soon receive a request to annex Marinello to the district and provide the planned community with both water and sewer service.

Seeger reminded the directors that, in a recent joint annexation policy statement with the North Marin County Water District, they expressed willingness to provide sanitation service to areas not now receiving it.

"Aren't they just handing us a white elephant?" asked Director William C. Herup. "Why can't we just stay in the water business?"

Director Robert G. Anderson said, "We're certainly not looking for any more work, but someone has to provide this service and we're certainly the best equipped for it."

"It will sure cost the taxpayers a lot less if we take it on rather than another batch of these small districts," said Dr. Leo L. Stanley.

One director suggested the county should combine all the small districts into one large one, and Seeger responded: "That's what they want to do. We're that large district."

Herup suggested that the name of the district may have to be changed someday to Marin Municipal Utilities District, or "Marin MUD."

Golf Course Must Put Up Water Payment Guarantee

Even though golf courses are one of the biggest customers of Marin Municipal Water District, they are sometimes more trouble than they are worth, according to William R. Seeger, general manager of the district.

Seeger told district directors yesterday that experience has shown him that new golf courses are not good credit risks. A case in point, he said, is the $6,500 water bill owed the district by one former Marin County golf course owner.

"I've just been burned too many times," Seeger declared.

All this was in preparation to a board demand that National Golf Courses, Inc., new operators of the San Geronimo National Golf Course, make a deposit of $3,000, payment for a month's supply of water, before the district agrees to furnish water for the course.

In addition, Seeger said, a clause in the contract will give him authority to shut off all water, without the district being liable for damages resulting, if any month's bill is not paid within five days after it comes due.

Seeger said he will try to get the same type of agreement with the new owners of Peacock Gap and any other new golf course owners who come to the county.

The board also turned down a request for a reduced rate for the San Geronimo club, which asked the reduction because it is receiving untreated water.

Other courses, such as the Meadow Club, also receive untreated water and pay standard rates, directors said.

The Marin Municipal Water District directors also:

1. Agreed to purchase their annual supply of cast iron pipe from United States Pipe and Foundry for $183,118.
2. Called for bids on 100 tons of hydrated lime, the district's annual supply.
3. Agreed to supervise development of a water system for the Seascape subdivision at Muir Beach for a fee of $5,000.
4. Acknowledged receipt of suggested guidelines for development of Mount Tamalpais from directors of the Marin Conservation League. Directors informally said they agreed with the guidelines, which recommend no commercial development, but added they could not officially adopt them.

Youths Charged With Killings

Marcum, a Skyline High School student, was charged with slaying his father, Willard Marcum, on Feb. 28. Gouveia was charged with killing Jill Potter, another Skyline student, on March 3.

Marin Mayors Rap Double Tax, Ask County Master Plan Speedup

Two Marin mayors yesterday urged a closer look at double taxation in the county, particularly for police costs, and asked quick development of a county master plan.

Mayors Robert D. Carrow of Novato and Michael Wornum of Mill Valley, also had some arrows to throw at the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows told what has been done in the city-county service field, and explained some of the LAFCS action.

They spoke to the Leagues of Women Voters of Southern and central Marin at a "know your government" session at the Civic Center.

Wornum and Carrow are members of the City-County Services Committee. Barrows is staff advisor for that committee and executive officer of the Local Agency Formation Committee.

Wornum said the LAFCS must take stronger steps to encourage incorporation and annexations. He said one course of action in curing taxing inequities is to have urban areas become part of cities, instead of demanding urban type services from the county.

Wornum criticized the recent action of the LAFCS in turning down an annexation to the City of San Rafael because it would take assessed value from special districts. He claimed the commission should see that the assessed value of the special districts is reduced so the areas will join the cities. He was referring to the proposed Lucas Green annexation to San Rafael.

Carrow cited the commission's denial of an annexation northeast of Novato because of objections by property owners. "This should be totally unrelated to their findings," Carrow said.

In his opening remarks, Carrow made a case for more equity in county tax for support of the sheriff's departments and paying their share of sheriff's department costs as well.

Barrows in his opening statement said urban service areas should become part of cities, but there were objections, both because of the tax increase involved and sometimes because of planning.

He said residents outside San Rafael raise a great protest on annexation on the ground that they do not like San Rafael's planning. Barrows said the tax structure can be adjusted to do away with some of the objections to annexation, but there is little the county can do about a city's planning policies.

There were several questions on the advantages and disadvantages of special districts.

Barrows said supervisors have asked the North Marin County Water District and Marin Municipal Water District to go into the sewer business as new areas develop. He said he is thinking of recommending that MMWD take over sewers of the City of Mill Valley and four adjoining sanitary districts as a solution to a jurisdictional problem.

A sanitation district has been proposed to operate the treatment plant and main lines for all the districts. This will soon be before the Local Agency Formation Commission.

Wornum said that a county-wide general plan is needed to stop the see-saw situation. Developers, he declared sometimes say they will annex to a city if they can get certain planning concessions. "Often they will play this off with another city and the county," he said.

"There must be some guides," All the speakers agreed with this. Barrows said that work on a general plan, under the guidance of County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, will undoubtedly start soon.

Police Raid Hell's Angels In Farmhouse

PETALUMA (AP)—An 80-man party of police, sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen raided a farm house last night where an 18-year-old San Francisco girl said she was raped repeatedly last weekend by members of the Hell's Angels.

The raiders carried warrants for the arrests of four men. None was among nine motorcycle club men in the farmhouse with five women.

Norman K. Aguilon, 22, of Rohnert Park, was booked on a charge of possessing stolen property—the interior workings of a Petaluma parking meter. No other arrests were made.

The raiders took clubs, riot guns and dogs on the raid of the farmhouse, three miles west of Petaluma.

Officers said the farmhouse had been a weekend gathering place for large numbers of the Hell's Angels.

At Monday night's Petaluma City Council meeting, several residents demanded action against the Hell's Angeles, saying the presence of the cyclists made the townspeople jittery.

Mayor Helen Putnam pointed out that the farmhouse was outside the city limits.

Contract Let For Dam Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1.8 million contract for construction of Contra Loma Dam in California's Sacramento Delta was announced today by the Department of the Interior.

Parish Bros., Inc., Harold O. Parish and R. I. Parish of Benicia, received the contract on the lowest of 10 bids submitted, $1,781,626.

Contra Loma Dam will be built near Antioch adjacent to the Contra Costa Canal.

Marin City Arsonists Pursued By Deputies

Marin County sheriff's deputies today were looking for youths who made two efforts to burn down an abandoned duplex apartment in Marin City last night.

County firemen were called to Building 85—one of the deteriorated World War II homes which are scheduled for demolition soon—at 11:18 p.m. and again at 11:53 p.m.

Each time, they put out the fire before it had done much damage.

Sheriff's Deputy Billy Dews, meanwhile, reported he saw six youths walking toward the building, which is just south of the Marin City Market, about 10 p.m.

Dews said he saw one of the youths ignite a bottle and toss it through the window. He chased them before turning in the fire alarm, but was unable to catch them.

After fighting the blaze, County Fireman Michael McPherson returned to the Marin City fire station and found someone had thrown a rock at the side of the building, apparently trying to break a window.

Deputies found a pint wine bottle, still half full of gasoline, inside Building 85.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos declared the act of arson was "definitely a deliberate case of endangering life and property, and our department is not going to allow this to continue."

He speculated the youths who hurled the bottle may have been the same who set the Marin City Community Center on fire Monday night.

Mountanos vowed that he will recommend that the district attorney's office seek the maximum penalty of two to 20 years for anyone arrested for the arson.

He said he is putting inspectors

Marco Melovich and A. V. Menjou on the case full-time.

The sheriff added that he believes "a few individuals are using the Richmond situation as an excuse" for their actions. Richmond police last night were augmented by Contra Costa sheriff's officers and other communities to prevent recurrence of an outbreak of vandalism and looting the previous night.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Joseph D. Lohman, dean of the University of California school of criminology at Berkeley, was appointed today to serve as chairman of the State Advisory Compensatory Education Commission.

Lohman succeeds Herman Gallegos of San Francisco, who resigned in February. The commission was formed in 1965 to advise the State Board of Education on how to improve schooling for handicapped and needy children.

Officials Check Eichler Homes Fire Causes

Two county officials today were trying to find out if there is a danger that other Eichler-built homes in Marin may be subject to electrical failure like that which caused a fire that killed a 7-year-old Lucas Valley girl Tuesday.

Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom was scheduled to meet this afternoon with Building Inspector Hans Berge to discuss the matter.

Bloom said he has definitely established that the $57,000 blaze, which destroyed the home of the Lawrence K. Fong family at 9 Mount Rainier Drive and took the life of Rebecca Ellen Fong, started in the house's main 220-volt electrical panel.

He said the cause was identical with that of a fire which destroyed another Eichler home at 25 Mount Foraker Court in Lucas Valley on Oct. 22, 1964. In both cases, wires in the panel were found to have short-circuited, he said.

The panel from the Fong home has been taken from the debris and will be sent to the National Board of Fire Underwriters for analysis, said Bloom. This was requested by the insurance company which had written a policy on the home.

Chiefs of the San Rafael and Marinwood fire departments both of which have fought blazes in Eichler homes within the past three years, also are interested in the outcome of the investigation, Bloom reported.

Funeral for Rebecca Fong will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Lucas Valley Community Church. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery, Colma.

Engineer Says Second Deck Could Postpone New Spans

Tudor Engineering Co.'s proposed a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge would double the capacity so no additional automobile crossing would be needed before 1985.

This was reported today to the Golden Gate Bridge District board of directors from Norman B. Raab, special consultant to the engineering company, a San Francisco organization.

Raab said the construction period from awarding the first contract to completion would be about four years. He declined to estimate the total cost, which is believed to be somewhere between $30 million and $50 million.

The bridge's two decks each would have five 12-foot lanes. The upper deck would carry southbound traffic, and the lower deck, northbound.

"The rearrangement of structural elements of the bridge would in no way jeopardize safety of the structure," said Raab.

Relocation of sidewalks from the upper deck to the lower would permit installation of a suicide barrier, which he said would harmonize with the appearance of the bridge.

The San Francisco approach would be a five-lane steel viaduct parallel to and just north of the present Marina approach. The new viaduct would pass under the present bridge approach and Lincoln Boulevard, and emerge to the west of the toll plaza. It would require removal of the west parking area and the shop building.

On the Marin side, the lower deck would emerge on the east side of the bridge and pass across part of the Vista Point parking area, connecting with Highway 101 near the Sausalito lateral.

Since southbound traffic would be prohibited from crossing the new freeway to reach Vista Point, Raab advised that another parking area be developed on the west side.

Raab submitted an 82-page report and went through its details with the bridge directors. The Tudor Engineering report is one of two consultative studies on the proposed second deck which the directors have ordered. The other is by Amann and Whitney.

Bank Holdup Escape Try Thwarted By 'Mud' Story

FILLMORE (AP) — Young Felix Rodriguez Jr. answered the doorbell and saw a neatly-dressed fellow who said:

"My car is stuck in the mud. Will you call me a cab?"

Felix, 16, called the police instead.

Officers arrived, arrested David V. Acosta, 21, on suspicion of robbing a bank in nearby El Rio.

"I heard a bank robber was hiding somewhere in town," Felix said yesterday after the arrest.

"If he told me he wanted a cab because his car broke down, I'd have called the cab. But when he said he was stuck in the mud, I knew something was fishy. There's no mud around here."

Acosta, when arrested, was carrying a .32-caliber revolver and 233 $20 bills, officers said. The bank had lost $4,660 in the robbery Tuesday, they said.

State Spending Up

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Total spending for goods and services in California was just under $82 billion in 1965, the Bank of California reports. This was a gain of more than 6 percent over spending by individuals, companies and government agencies in 1964.

Masked Bandits Steal Jewels

BOSTON (UPI)—Two masked gunmen held up a jewelry store in downtown Boston today and fled with an estimated $300,000 worth of diamonds, police said. Cash and other carefully selected jewels and watches also were taken.

Police quickly arrived at the building, possibly while the bandits were inside, but left when they thought they were at the wrong place.

"If the police had come here the first time we called them they would have caught them," said Harry Cortell, owner of the store.

FLAGS ABOUND—Mrs. Pearl Cole works in her Novato home surrounded by the 38 American flags she has researched and made over the past six months. The flags will be sent to a friend in Alaska for use in Fourth of July parades. "I have really enjoyed every minute of it," she said. "It is surprising how much history you can learn by studying American flags since colonial days." (Independent-Journal photo)

Housewife Traces History Of Flag By Making Them

A rare collection of 38 American flags, tracing the country's history from colonial days, will be carried in a Fourth of July parade in Alaska this year, thanks to the determination and sewing skill of a Novato housewife.

Mrs. Pearl Cole of 630 Louise Avenue has put the final stitches to the flags which she will send to a friend near Anchorage for public display and Independence Day parades.

It took her six weeks to make the flags, each measuring three feet by five feet six inches. More than $120 was spent on 115 yards of cloth and seven miles of thread. She worked a total of 162 hours on the project.

Her husband, 35-year-old Sgt. Edwin Cole, in charge of the motor pool at the 66th Radar Squadron atop Mount Tamalpais, helped her fit the grommets.

Mrs. Cole said today: "A dentist friend in Alaska, Dr. Paul Jaeger, asked me repeatedly for the past six years to make the flags. My husband and I knew him when we were stationed there and I used to make colored uniforms for him. He always said white uniforms frightened children."

Oklahoma-born Mrs. Cole kept putting the project off until her children, Calvin, 12; Cheryl, 11; Craig, 10, and Ruth, 7, were away at school during the day.

"I must have spent hours researching the flags," she said. "I had to find pictures of them in the Novato library. Every time a state was added to the Union, they changed the position of the stars."

The 38 flags she has produced show the changes down to date, with Alaska's 49th star on the present 50 star-flag.

Boy Is Killed By Two Dogs

RIALTO (AP)—A small boy was fatally chewed and mauled here by his babysitter's big great Dane and German shepherd dogs, sheriff's deputies report.

Investigators said Robert F. Hamstreet Jr., 18 months, had been bitten at least 20 times. Officers said the babysitter, Mrs. Phyllis House, 37, told of entering her back yard yesterday with the boy in her arms and attempting to make the two dogs stop digging a hole.

She told deputies one dog grabbed the boy from her arms and began mauling him, then the other dog joined in. Mrs. House suffered numerous injuries trying to save the boy, officers said, and was hospitalized for treatment of shock.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Data Processing Use Could Help Eliminate Any Grade Tampering

Data processing equipment at College of Marin may help keep future school administrators in Marin County from temptation to emulate those in New York who were disclosed recently to have doctored high school transcripts to help graduates get into college.

The University Applications Processing Center at Brooklyn University disclosed recently that a dozen high schools in New York City made a practice of altering grades on transcripts going to colleges, by eliminating records of courses failed and in some cases altering semester grades.

"I've never heard of such a thing being done," said Supt. Chester G. Carlisle of Tamalpais High School District when informed of the New York disclosures.

HE WENT ON that its possibility was virtually eliminated by his district's system of handling high school report cards. The teachers' grades are sent to the data processing bureau, which produces the report. When a transcript is prepared for submission to college, the data processing record is photographed. There is no opportunity for falsification.

The same method is followed with San Rafael High School District grades, Supt. Bert C. Corona of San Rafael schools said the New York disclosure "comes to me as a complete surprise," as he had never heard of any school doing such a thing.

President Stephen E. Epler of College of Marin, who had read of a similar practice disclosed last year at Hillhouse High School in New Haven, Conn., declared:

"Those transcripts are supposed to be as good as bonds. To counterfeit their product is about as unprofessional as anything could be."

PREVIOUS to the Hillhouse disclosure, he had never heard of such a practice in his many years in high schools and junior colleges in the Midwest and California, he said.

Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, said he also had not heard of the practice. But he found some parallels.

"Two people I encountered some years ago had fake teaching credentials," he related, "one in Stanislaus County in 1959 and one at San Jose State College in 1961. They had been teaching for many years with fake certificates before discovery."

Hollis commented also that the altering of high school transcripts bore strong resemblance to a practice not uncommon at "football colleges," where a gridiron hero would receive a passing grade in a course he did not actually take. This, he remarked, had made degrees acquired with a physical education major somewhat suspect.

The county superintendent pointed out, however, that the practice of producing reports by data processing and photographing them for transcripts eliminates any "doctoring" of the grades — even if it does not eliminate over-generous grading in the first place.

THE COUNTY data processing bureau several years ago began producing report cards and transcripts for Marin's high school districts. Some are now produced by the new data processing at College of Marin, which hopes to do all such work for school districts in the county.

Sentence Slated On Two Counts

Guilty pleas to malicious mischief and battery on a San Rafael police officer were entered in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday by Russell E. Fabian, 23, of 407 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Judge Peter Allen Smith scheduled sentencing for April 12. A third count, resisting arrest, was dismissed.

Fabian broke a car window in the 700 block of Fourth Street in San Rafael, then scuffled with San Rafael officer Terrance Lucchesi.

STORM CENTER—Rev. Albert Cohen, 38, plays with his adopted 2-year-old son, David, in Fullerton (Orange County) yesterday, after the Protestant college chaplain and his wife decided to give up plans to adopt the Negro child because of threats and harassment. (UPI Telephoto)

TOO MANY THREATS

White Family Gives Back Negro Orphan

FULLERTON (AP) — "Have you checked the kids lately? One of them might be gone," a man said menacingly on the telephone.

Such anonymous callers, garbage throwers and other vandals have won, says the Rev. Albert C. Cohen. He and his wife are going to send their adopted Negro child, David, back to the adoption bureau.

"We thought we could stand it," the Protestant minister said yesterday, "but neither of us has the stamina to do the job."

His wife, Ann, said: "It was the worst decision we ever had to make. I know we'll have second thoughts, but we must do it. It's best for David that we stop right now before he's old enough to remember."

Cohen, 38, blaming harassment for their decision, said, "We thought we could stand up and be counted, but we're scared now."

"The judge would have signed the final adoption papers for David next month," he said, "but we have to give up. We've tried."

"We have suffered personal harassment and verbal harassment for almost a year now."

Cohen, a 1949 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, is the Protestant chaplain on the California State College campus here. He served as a line officer in the Navy for five years.

The Cohens, who are white, have four children of their own. They moved to this growing Los Angeles suburb last July from nearby Whittier, where Cohen was pastor of a Congregational church.

Brea means pitch. Name derived from Rancho La Brea, and given to "The Death Trap of the Ages," where science has been enriched by the finding of bones of prehistoric animals, including the saber-toothed cat and the ground sloth.

"It was all right at first, although all our friends, black and white, told us it wouldn't be," Mrs. Cohen, 33, said.

"I feel the resentment now, and I see it. I'm afraid to take David into a store. I had no idea how frightening it would become."

"The idea of giving him up is hard. He's so much a part of the family, but it's worse if we keep him."

"In our neighborhood in Fullerton we have been well received. The people next door send their children over to play with David. But it's the mysterious phone calls and the threats."

She said her husband was active in civil rights demonstrations, including the march from Selma to Montgomery, Ala., last year, so they were somewhat used to taunts and minor harassment.

David Hartman, 13, feels a model spider web at the "Touch-and-Learn" museum.

How can you show a blind child the intricate pattern of a spider web? How can you explain to him the true size of an elephant? How do you teach him how an engine works—what a map is—what the seal of the United States looks like?

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Freund has spent a lifetime thinking about these problems. Her family has been associated with Philadelphia's Overbrook School for the Blind for 133 years. Six years ago she told a class of younger students at Overbrook a story about a mouse. It was a funny story and the children laughed at the rhymes and jingles—but when asked how big they thought a mouse was, the children's hands indicated sizes ranging from an inch to five feet.

Mrs. Freund thought she had a solution. With the help of many organizations and people (including President Johnson, who sent a stuffed armadillo) she opened a Tactile Learning Center at Overbrook. It is a "Touch-and-Learn" museum, full of objects which the children can handle and gain knowledge from. With displays of animals, engines, industries, boats, buildings, and many other things, the museum gives blind children experiences of things that other children can learn about by seeing them.

Now, if you ask a child at Overbrook how big a mouse is, he knows—he has felt one.

Civic Affairs Council Deadlocks On Zoning

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs last night could reach no agreement on a proposed amendment to the county's planned community zoning ordinance.

The county planning commission has under study a change that would delete the 3.5 unit per acre maximum density and relate density to master plans on or adjacent to the area in question.

MCCA President Edward J. Neumeier said all directors agreed that some change was needed, but they could not agree on the need for a 15 per cent bonus in density proposed for "good planning."

Director Robert McCreadie of Mill Valley was named to head a committee to decide on endorsement of a candidate in the First Supervisorial District.

Joseph Bodovitz and Harold Stockstead were named to the council's executive committee.

Neumeier said discussion at the April 27 meeting of the council will center on the role it can play in studying education in the county.

Ankles Twisted In Drain Grating

Ida B. Dibben, 58, of 38 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, a switchboard operator at the Marin County Courthouse, twisted both her ankles severely about 2 p.m. yesterday when she stepped into a drain grating at Court and Fourth streets, San Rafael.

She was listed in good condition today at Marin General Hospital. San Rafael police said she was crossing the street but was not in the crosswalk because the walkway was blocked by a parked truck of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Stinson-Bolinas Lions Club To Be Named After Settler

Members of the newly formed Lions Club of Stinson Beach and Bolinas agreed last night to name their club after one of the early settlers in the area, Gregorio Briones. He was a cattle rancher who once owned a great deal of land there.

James Gibson, who runs Jim's Chevron Service in Stinson Beach, was elected club president at the meeting at Taranino's Seafood Grotto in Bolinas. A. C. Pfefferkorn was elected secretary; Ira Switzer, tail twister, and Jose Silva and Archie Goldsberry, directors.

Other officers are to be elected later.

The club will meet at 8 p.m. on the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month, Gibson reported. Meetings will alternate between the two sea villages, with locations to be chosen later.

Unemployment Insurance Cost Declared Lower

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state employment director has disclosed that California unemployment insurance costs less now than it did under the last Republican state administration in 1958.

Albert B. Tieburg made the comment yesterday in response to criticism by Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, over the number of unemployment insurance claims.

Tieburg said that in 1958 benefits paid by California employers were $361 million, 2.02 per cent of total wages compared with benefits payments of $533.7 million, 1.85 per cent of total wages.

Tieburg said employment increased 27 per cent and total wages by 62 per cent during the seven-year Democratic administration.

TAX CUT, SALARY BOOST ENDORSED

Lawmakers Favor Elderly Homeowners' Tax Refund, Assessment Law Shakeups

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Bipartisan support pushed a $21 million property tax refund for elderly homeowners and a $44.7 million pay raise for state employees a step nearer to passage today.

Stepped-up activity in the Assembly yesterday also produced committee approval for a major revision of a property tax assessment system rocked by scandal.

Quick votes in the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee cleared the tax refund and the assessment reform.

If the tax break, supported by Gov. Brown, becomes law, some 150,000 homeowning Californians 65 or older, would get refunds from the state on part of their property taxes beginning July 1, 1967. To be eligible, they'd have to have an annual income of less than $3,350.

The assessment reform was approved after a co-author, Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, had said earlier "this bill was triggered . . . by the somewhat shocking disclosures of the last year."

Charges that some assessors favored businesses in return for payoffs have resulted in the trial of assessors in San Francisco and Alameda counties. Assessors of two other counties have been included in grand jury indictments.

One of the biggest reform measures before the legislature in years, the bill requires:

Assessment in every county of 25 per cent of the fair market value of property, beginning July 1, 1971. Knox said this uniform ratio is "the keystone of any reform."

Audits at least once every three years of businesses with $25,000 in property.

Independent appeals boards in all counties. Los Angeles is the only county with such a board now.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Glaucoma Means Blinding Rise Of Pressure Inside The Eyeball

When tension within the eyeball increases (glaucoma) the optic nerve can be damaged by pressure leading to loss of vision. The condition brings blindness to 3,500 more people in the United States every year due primarily to lack of detection in the early stages.

Approximately 10 per cent develop the acute form of the disease. This is a dramatic situation in which the victim develops acute congestion of the eye with severe pain and rapid loss of vision. Another 20 per cent have vague symptoms, such as blurred or foggy vision that is not corrected with new glasses. They also have difficulty seeing in the dark or notice rainbow-colored halos around lights.

THIS TYPE of glaucoma (angle closure) is precipitated in susceptible persons by drugs that cause dilation of the pupil. Emotional stress, or being in a darkened room, such as when in the theater or watching TV does the same. Emergency measures usually are needed, including medications that constrict the pupils (miotics) and diuretics that reduce the congestion.

The remaining 70 per cent have the sneaky type of glaucoma. They are symptomless until the optic nerve is damaged. The majority lose side vision or accidentally discover the malady after covering one eye and finding that the other is blind. It is estimated that 2 per cent of the population over age 40 has this type (open angle) of glaucoma. It is detected only by having the tension checked periodically by an ophthalmologist. There are several drugs that reduce the tension and surgery can be done when these fail.

THERE IS a constant flow of fluid within the eyeball to keep the structure from collapsing. The tension increases when the fluid does not drain out properly. Glaucoma also develops as a complication of other eye disorders and is treated in a similar way.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)
